INSIDE OUT: The choice to be in charge of your own life

In this book, the author presents many stories of her own life in which the NLP process was applied in a simple - and at the same time deep - way, always considering an opportunity for changes. For those who do not know anything about the subject, this is the chance to start and experiment with the tools, through an amplified view. The publishing of this book will contribute to the Neuro-linguistic Programming area with a newer approach, a newer look, bringing the heart and the soul together.
